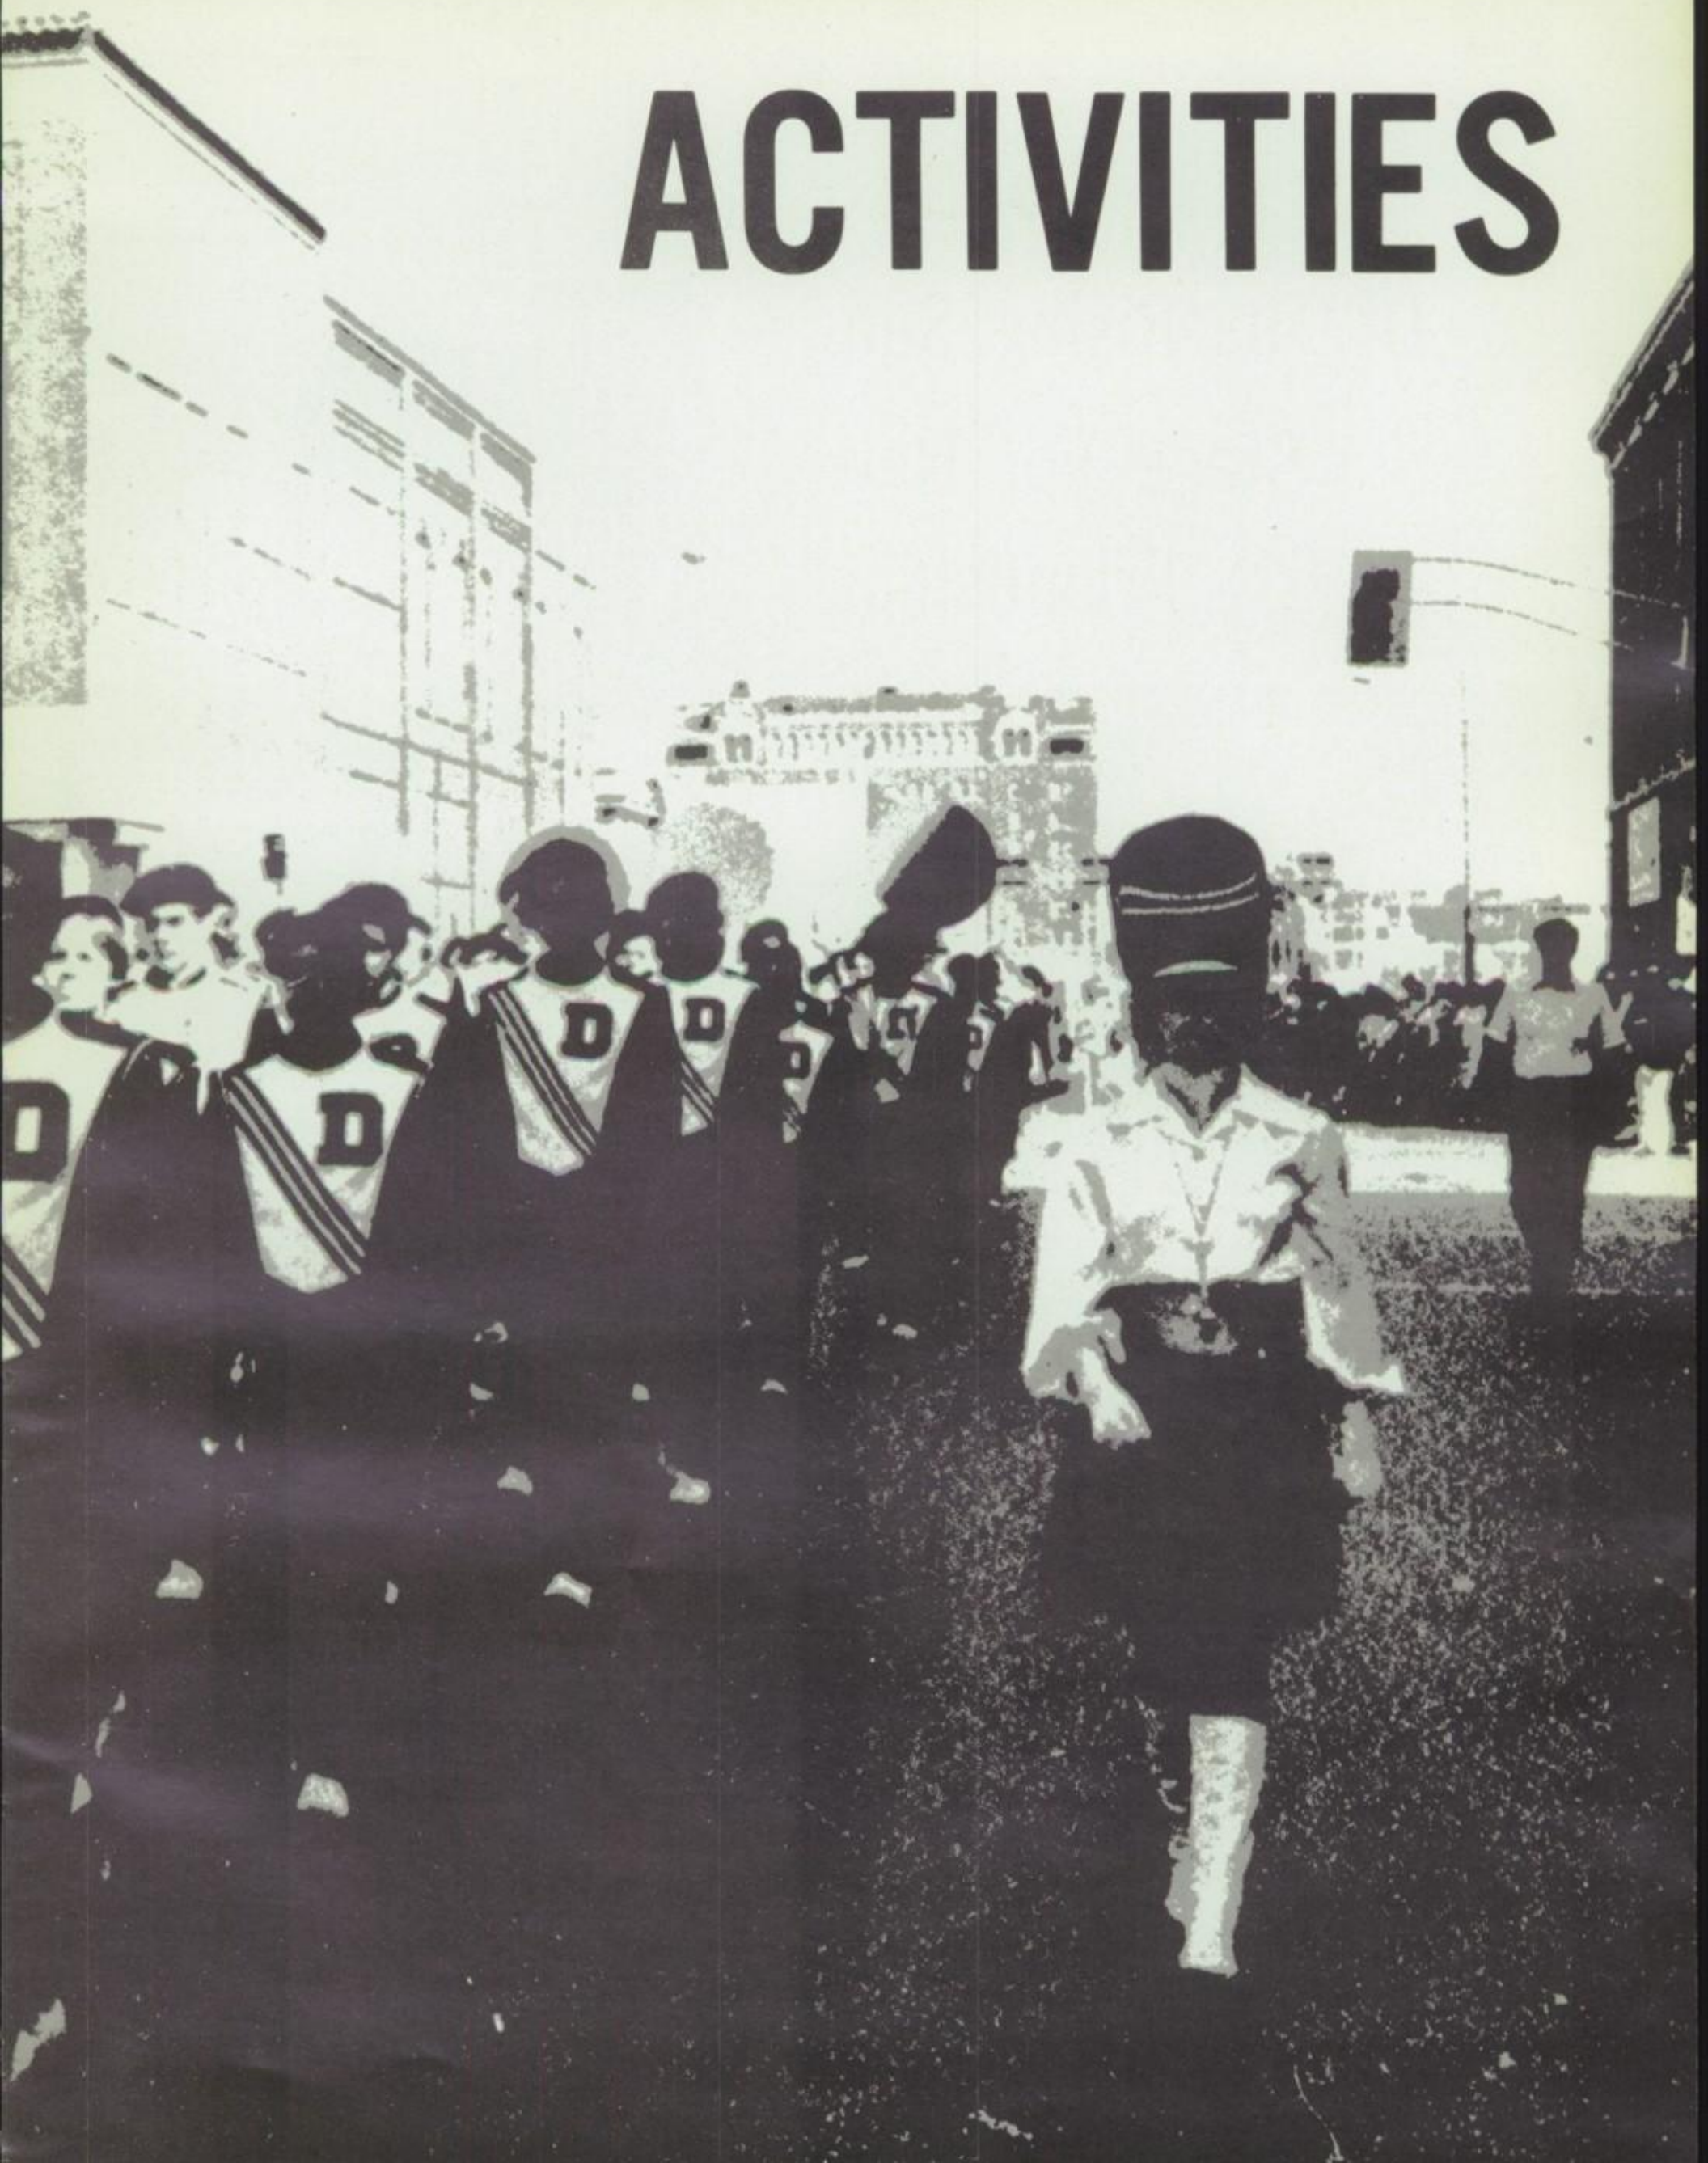
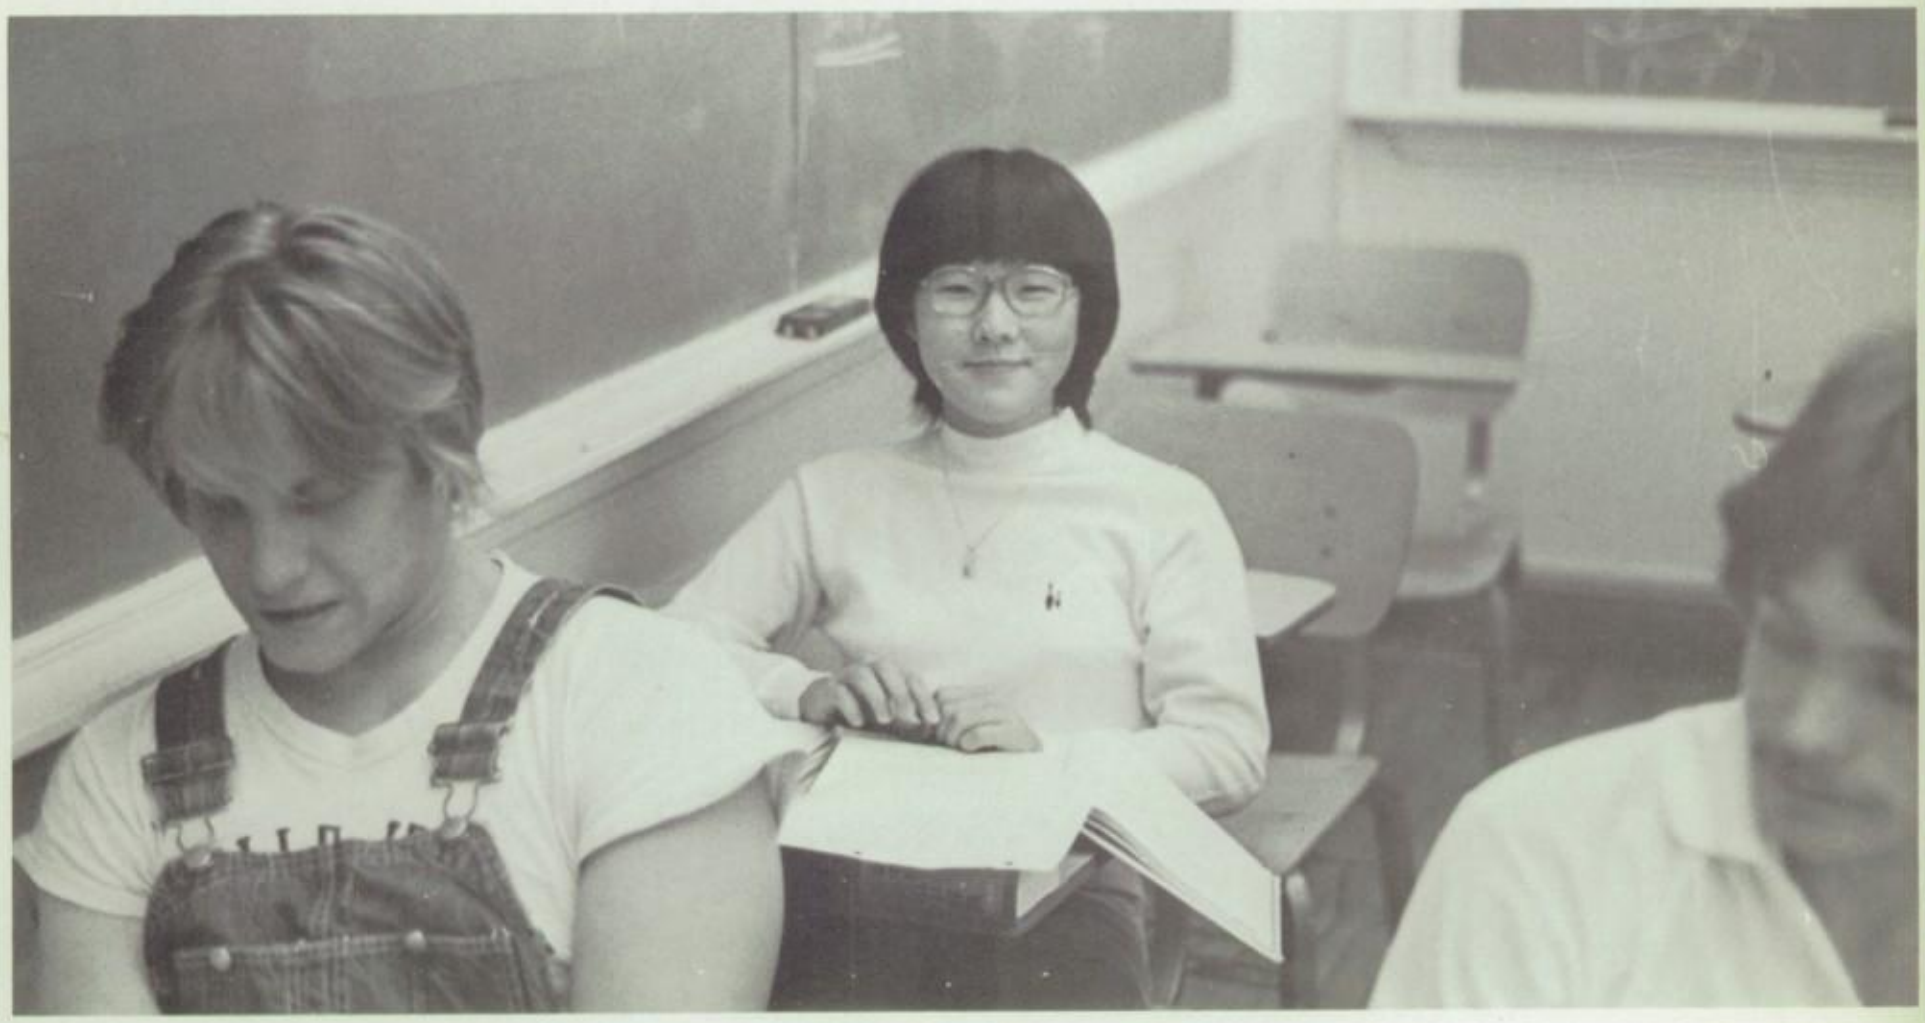
ACTIVITIES



The Land Of The Rising Sun; Stage For New Friendships



"School here is much different from that of Japan. Classes are smaller and here students don't wear uniforms," said Aya Onishi, our exchange student. Aya is from Japan and came to Danville to spend a year in our country. She adjusted to our way of living very well with the help of her host sister Karen Johnson. Aya didn't wait for opportunity to come to her, but instead, became involved in numerous school activities. She played on the Girls Volleyball Team, joined Z-Club and Latin Club, and was her homeroom representative for Student Council. Cindy Wright, who traveled to Japan for two months during the summer as part of the Students Abroad Program, found her trip very rewarding. She learned the Japanese way of life by living with a Japanese family and attending school with her new friends. Through the American Field Service, people gain a better understanding of a foreign country and its people.

Despite the noon heat the band and orchestra performed at their largest concert at Rawlings Park (Right). The lull between concerts was spent relaxing among friends and instruments (Below And Lower Right).

Pizza and fruit sales started the fund raising projects to send the DHS Band and Orchestra to our nation's capital. After the flight and a mad dash to the buses, they played at some of the national memorials, including the Washington Monument, Lincoln Memorial, and on the Capital steps. Taking time out from the music agenda, the musicians traveled to various historical highlights of the city. As a special feature, they took a night water excursion to Mt. Vernon to see a show of lights celebrating our Bicentennial. Mr. Dugle and Mr. Smith both felt that the bands and orchestra were very impressive to the people of Washington, and brought great pride to the town of Danville.

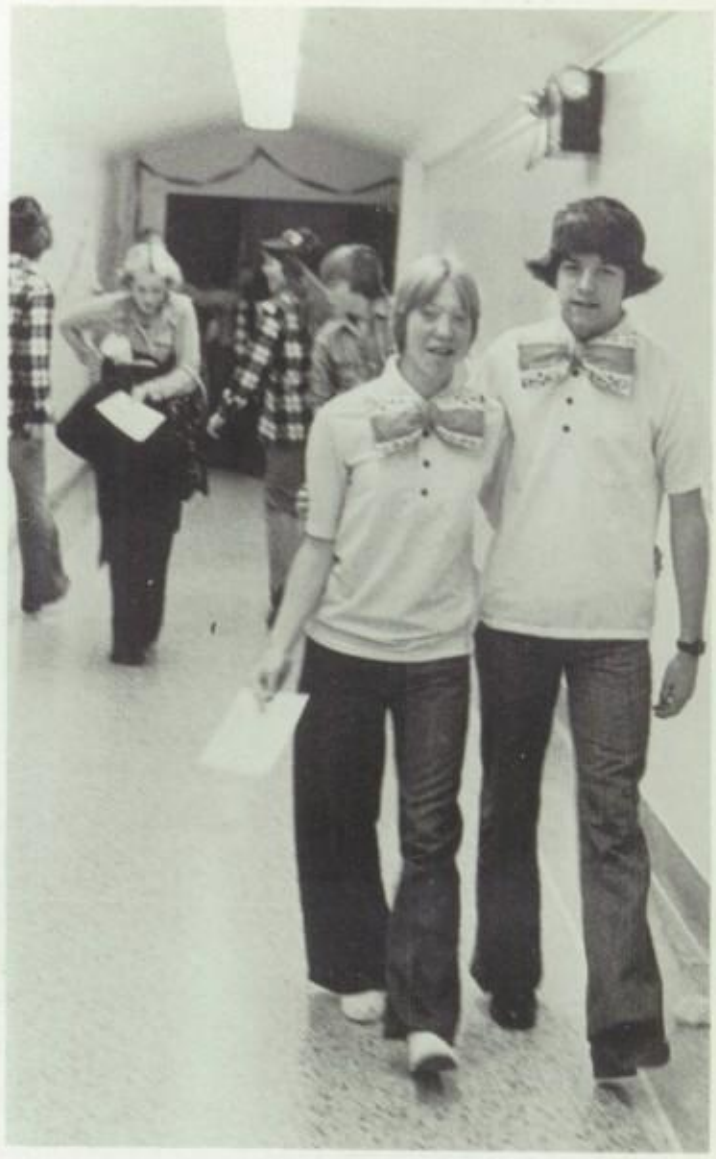
Girls Get Chance



Daisy Mae, DeLisa Gentry, and Lil' Abner, Dominic Huerta, reigned over the Sadie Hawkins dance that was held after the Danville vs. Lincoln football game. The annual dance was sponsored by the Y-Teens, and was decorated in fall colors. As the couples arrived in the traditional bows and matching shirts, the Marryin' Sams began their work for the evening. Music was provided by CLEATUS RUDE.

Spirit Week Raises Homecoming Fervor

Students showed their enthusiasm during the most spirit-filled week of the school year. Dresses and suits were worn on Wednesday, mix and clash outfits on Thursday and patriotic maroon and white on Friday. Class competitions were held in a tug of war and hall decorations. Those not involved in the tug of war came out to cheer for their class. The week ended with a victory for the Vikings at the Friday football game.

"Dancin' In The Moonlight"

The Boys Gym was transformed into a beautiful moonlit garden for the DHS 1976 Homecoming dance. A wishing well and lovely colored balloon gardens added to the romantic charm. A mirror ball was hung in the center of the ceiling, casting prisms of colored light around the garden. Queen Kim Caslow and her senior attendants, Barb Ring and Kim Ewbank, juniors Verna Duckworth and Kim Burroughs, and sophomores Vicki Siddens and Kathy Yanko, had a special place at the north end of the garden. Couples were "Dancin' in the Moonlight" to fantastic music by "George."

Viking Voices Fill The Auditorium

The annual Fall Concert was held on October 28. Four DHS choirs presented music ranging from the Renaissance style to contemporary "rock and roll." The Treble Choir, the Vikingettes, and the Singing Vikings were directed by Mr. Joe Grant. The Vikings, an all male choir, was directed by Mr. Jim Rimington.

Drama Productions Big Success

It was hard to believe the hilarious mishaps that happened in the small town of Sandusky, between affairs with movie queens and ex-boxers in "The Whole Towns' Talking." Munchkins and witches proved adventurous for Dorothy and her three companions. in "The Wizard of Oz." The two productions, which were well received by everyone, were put on by the Drama Club, which was advised by Mr. Dale Ferrell.

Facing a battle with Lancelot and fearing the end of Camelot, Arthur discovers young Tom of Warwick, and through him learns his dream will never die.

ORGANIZATIONS

Council Strives For Student Involvement

It's one thing to know about school problems, but it is another to do something about them. As the student government, the Student Council gave students a chance to participate, trying to curb the rising apathy towards the school. Students were encouraged to attend the meetings and become involved in various committees formed to find the needs of the school population. The annual Student Council Week began with an exciting assembly that featured Craig Virgin, a member of the U.S. Olympic Team and for a little comedy, a "Sexy Legs Contest." From names submitted by the Social Studies classes, the student body voted for their choice of a name for the new east end grade school. For the basketball fans the Council sponsored a University of Illinois Intra-squad game to help meet the costs of the Homecoming dance. Advised by Mr. Smith the officers, Jim Albert, president; Chris Burch, vice president; Karen White, secretary; Brad Smith, treasurer, and a council composed of homeroom representatives made up the student government.

Officers: B. Smith, J. Albert, K. White. Absent: C. Burch.

Service Clubs Benefit School

Helping others and providing the school with numerous activities were the chief purposes of Z-Club, Y-Teens, and the Human Relations club. Z-Club held bake sales and ushered at football and basketball games. They reached out to the community with Thanksgiving baskets for needy families and shared in singing at nursing homes. Human Relations also reached out from the school and sponsored a Day of Fasting. The money raised went to the poverty-stricken in our country. Y-Teens focused on the high school and held the annual Sadie Hawkins dance. Each of these clubs was a definite asset to Danville High.

Their meetings were occupied with the making of plans for the Student Librarians of East Central Illinois (SLECI) banquet, which was held on St. Patrick's Day. Bake sales helped with costs of district dues and senior service awards.

The A-V Club was set up to give service to the students and teachers of DHS while teaching its members about audio-visual equipment. Making use of their audio-visual equipment, they video-taped the band and major sporting events. The meetings, held every other Wednesday, gave the members the opportunity to listen to speakers and see various demonstrations.

Foreign Clubs Broaden Horizons

Danville High was touched by three different cultures this year through the Spanish Club, the Latin Club, and the American Field Service organization. Activities ranged from testing Mexican foods, to celebrating a Roman festival, to hosting parties for our AFS student from Japan, Aya Onishi. The club members had fun building treasuries while they extended the warmth of friendship to people around the world.

Talent Emerges From DHS

"LifeSaver" candy and tickets for a free pizza were a sure sign the person you were standing next to was a Chess Club member. With every purchase of a roll of "LifeSavers" one received a chance for a free pizza. Advised by Mr. Robert Hurst, they met in room 249 every Thursday. The meetings gave members a chance to practice their chess strategy.

The Drama Club offered students a chance to express themselves by acting. The club held two plays, "The Whole Town's Talking" and "The Wizard of Oz." Selling tickets to sporting events raised money for entry fees for contests and for various supplies. They met twice a month. Advisor was Mr. Ferrell.

Maroon And White Aims For Excellence

What was the goal of the school newspaper? "To cover people and organizations worthy of recognition which are not well covered, if at all, by any other media," responded Mr. Crawford, advisor of the MAROON AND WHITE. Released every two weeks, the MAROON AND WHITE informed the student body of the happenings in and about DHS. Through a great sense of professionalism they put together a newspaper containing news, features, sports and editorials that was distributed to each student.

Radio Staff Broadens Communications

If a student was serious about radio broadcasting or if he just liked the sound of his own voice, the Radio Staff was a great experience. Through hard work Mrs. Bogart, the advisor, Jane Smith, General Manager; Tracey Smith, Sports Editor; Craig Tolliver, Features Editor; Jim Keller, News Editor; and the members of the staff put on a weekly broadcast that explored the many phases of communication. The broadcasts consisted of news and sports of the school, and a features section that provided information to the public about DHS activities.

Medley Unveils Faces Of '77

One of the biggest activities, with proportionate responsibilities remained the Medley, which was advised by Miss Parish and Mr. Stark. But mingled and intermixed with the long hours and comprehensive duties was that intangible feeling of accomplishment. After long hours of searching, the staff started its year's work by selecting the theme of "Faces" to be the unifying creative idea of the publication. It has been the goal to present the faces of D.H.S. in all their moods, interests, and situations.

Student Explore Career Possibilities

If one was interested in science, DHS provided excellent opportunities. A shark dissection, a visit to the river at Kickapoo State Park, plus a number of other excursions were undertaken by the Science Club and its advisor Mrs. Tunnell. Medical Career's goal was to acquaint its members with various medical fields. To the appreciation of the heads of the school, students found that the solution to a boring study hall was to work in an office.

Clubs Offer Career Possibilities

Many organizations in the school were geared to help prepare for the future. Meeting the third Tuesday of every month the Secretaries of Tomorrow were encouraged to pursue their interest in the secretarial field. Bake sales helped with the expenses of their "Miss SOT" contest and an end of the year picnic. The members of Office Occupations attended school in the mornings, leaving their afternoons free for work. Armed with candles and stationary they launched a sales campaign aimed at helping meet the costs of the employee-employer banquet and their Christmas party.

Earn Credits

And Money Too

Students that suffered from a dual problem of extreme aversion to class work and a lack of funds looked to the work programs for a solution. By combining school and work, students were able to earn credits and money too. The Distributive Education program prepared graduates for marketing jobs and gave college bound students a technical background. Yearly events included an employee-employer banquet, financed by the sale of calendars and the taking of inventory at Zayre. Industrial-oriented jobs with the Diversified Occupations program. The Cooperative Work Training program accomodated students who wanted to hold any type of job. The work programs helped students make the adjustment between the classroom and the world of work ahead of them.

A Busy Year For Choirs

The Singing Vikings, under the direction of Joe Grant, performed at the Big 12 Festival on February 15 in Charleston and at the Music Educators' National Convention on March 19 in Kansas City. The choir made a record to help raise money for the trip. The Contemporaires, directed by Jim Rimington, were well-known throughout the Midwest. Pompettes Place 3rd

Co-captians Patti Bailey and Jackie Pearson led the Danville Viking Pompettes to a year of victories. Patti and Jackie placed first in the captains' division of the competition at the camp in Vincennes, Indiana. The whole squad placed third in the class A competition. Long hours of practice both before and after school paid off when they performed new and creative routines at all home football and basketball games. Mrs. Cheri Harper was their advisor.

Cheerleaders Place

Ring Rates In National Competition

The Varsity Cheerleaders received second place at the United States Cheerleading Camp and captain Barb Ring received thirteenth at the National Grand Championships. During the year the squad made favors, cheered at games and pep assemblies, raised money by clearing farmland, and held a clinic for grade schoolers. Advisor was Mrs. Fogleman.

JV's Place First

This past summer the J.V. Cheerleaders received a first place rating at Wesleyan Cheerleading Camp in Bloomington. During the year they helped out at football and basketball games by selling programs and buttons, and working in the concession stand. The captain of the squad was Linda Darby; sponsor was Mrs. Fogleman.

Students Support Athletics

Spirit was strong and hopes were high for all the school athletics this year. Spirit Viking Greg Walsh planted the sword of challenge at all home games. Students looked to him as a source of inspiration. The Swim Timers, Viking Sluggers, Golden Girls, and Cross-Country Timers were responsible for raising enthusiasm and cheering on their respective teams. Lettermen from each sport were eligible to participate in the Letterman's Club, advised by Mr. Shebby. Without the support of these individuals, the various teams would not have succeeded as well as they have.

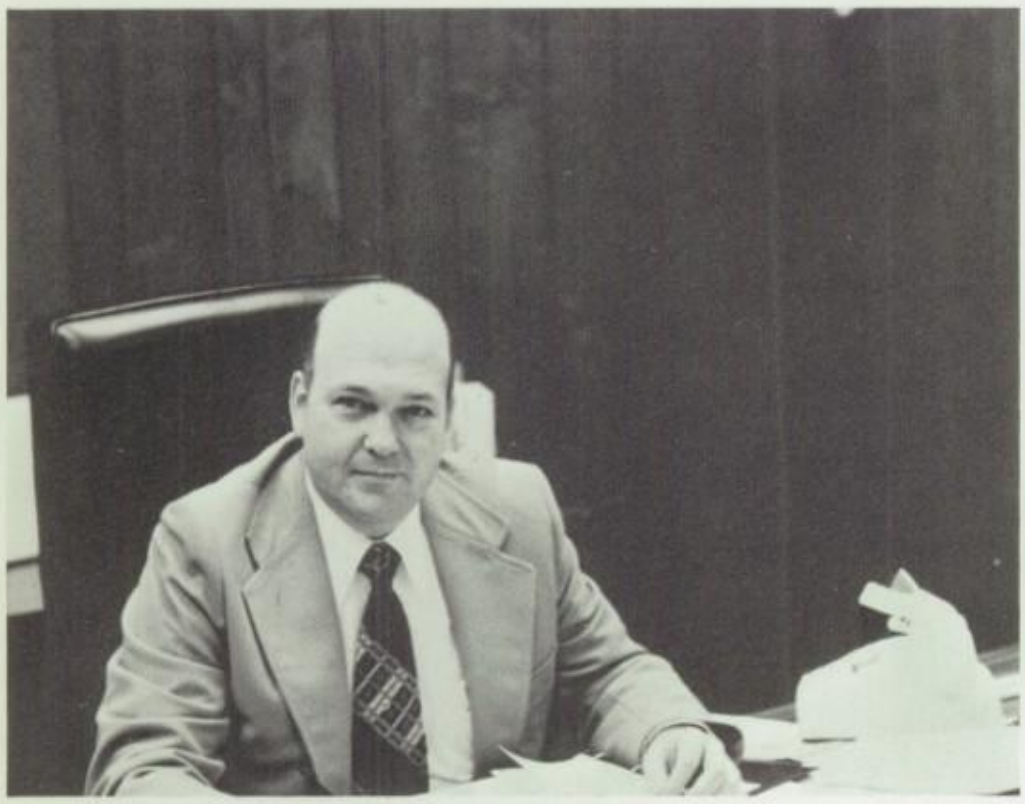
ACADEMICS

District Seeks Excellence



In any field of work, business, or learning, someone needs to supervise. This supervision requires the ability to relate to others, and the possession of a sense of fair play. The District 118 Board of Education and our city administration met these requirements. They worked together in providing an interesting, but challenging education for students.

D.H.S. Involves Community

While the city administration and the board of education provided a good sound education for students, the P.T.S.A. provided various banquets to honor students. Money for these banquets came from the sale of Viking buttons. In addition to honoring students, the P.T.S.A. attempted to involve parents and other community members in the education of Danville's youth.

D.H.S. Adds Administrator

This year, a new counseling program known as Student Services and Programs, headed by Assistant Principal Dr. Carl Esslinger, was enacted. This program gave the responsibility of counseling to the homeroom teacher. If the teacher judged necessary, he sent the student to the guidance office for further counseling with either Mr. Black, the vocational counselor, Mr. Miller, the college counselor, or Mrs. Kincheloe, the records counselor. To accommodate this new program, room 125 was renovated into a spacious waiting room for the students who wished to see their counselor.

Department Heads Advise And Coordinate

Each department at DHS was coordinated and advised by a teacher/department head. Once a month the department heads met with Mr. Mathisen to exchange information and to receive department reactions and suggestions.

In addition, they also evaluated department members, wrote reports, requisitioned materials, and prepared preliminary teacher class schedules.

This year, adding to the various duties of the diligent teachers of D.H.S., a new program, called Student Services and Programs, was enacted. This gave the homeroom teacher some of the duties of the guidance counselors. Each homeroom teacher had the responsibility of changing the necessary courses for those students who needed schedule changes. The homeroom teacher also had the responsibility of passing on information on colleges and college testing to those seniors planning to enter college. To accommodate this new program, homeroom was lengthened to twenty-five minutes.

D.H.S. Loses Valuable Teacher

Reverend David R. Zoerb, born August 11, 1913, died on September 6, 1976 of a heart attack. Mr. Zoerb was a welding teacher at Danville High School and Danville Junior College. He was a former pastor of the Kidley Church of Scottland, Illinois. He was also a member of the American Welding Society. Mr. Zoerb shall always be remembered for his seven years at D.H.S.; he never turned down a student's request for help and kept his classes interesting by using decorative and functional welding exercises.

CLASSES

Sophomores Adjust To DHS

After a special registration-orientation session in August, the members of the sophomore class rapidly adjusted to the academic and social life at DHS. In addition to participating in the sophomore traditions of decorating the third floor during Spirit Week, cleaning the gym floor after the Homecoming Dance and trimming the Christmas tree in the main hall, class members also joined and contributed to many activities. The class was led by Kim Barrett, president; Vicki Siddens, vice president; Lori Crawford, secretary; and Lisa Drews, social chairwoman.

1. Lori Taylor, Josie Driver and Sue Bierl decorate the traditional Christmas tree. 2. A half day registration-orientation session introduces the class of '79 to DHS. 3. (Officers) Back Row: L. Drews, K. Barrett. Front Row: L. Crawford, V. Siddens.

Juniors Win Jug

For Juniors, the year 1976-1977 was highlighted by the Prom and the Spirit Jug.

The major undertaking of the Junior Class Officers was planning for Prom. Committees were organized early in the year and meetings were held on Wednesday mornings. During the month of February the Junior Class decided to sell candy bars in order to raise money to cover the expenses of Prom.

This year's Prom was one of the best with the theme "Time in a Bottle." A great band performance was given by the Bluebirds, led led by Peter Berenz, a former DHS student. A very special attraction at Prom was the crowning of the King and Queen, which had not taken place in recent years.

The Junior Class also captured the coveted Spirit Jug at the beginning of the year.

"...any man's death diminishes me, because I am involved in mankind..."
(John Donne)

To The Memory Of William D. Butcher

September 27, 1959–November 5, 1976

Our lives were diminished by the death of Bill Butcher who was killed when his stalled auto was struck by another car. As a member of D. O. he was employed at Famaco Co.

The Senior Class Officers for the 1976-1977 school year were under the direction of Mrs. Baldwin. The officers had many plans to carry out through the year. They were kept busy with ordering announcements and graduation preparations. To raise money for the Senior Class gift to the High School, pen packs were sold. The Class Song and Class Motto were having the "finishing touches" applied as the Medley went to press.

The honor of Best Girl and Best Boy Citizen was awarded to Kim Ewbank and Mark Cerasi. They were selected by faculty and classmates for their leadership, service, and personality.

Rotary Honors is an organization in which a student must attain a 4.75 grade point average or better. The Danville Rotary Club sponsors the award. Awards given were a key and a chain with a lamp.

1. Senior Class Officers. Back Row: Julie Wiesemann, Vice-President; Erik Berg, President. Front Row: Michelle Clark, Secretary; Leigh Byrket, Social Chairman. 2. The feelings of the seniors were reflected by their actions throughout the day. Always aware of the pressures of school, studing in classes (1), eating in 25 minutes (2), or rushing between classes in five minutes (4), students found time to relax in class (3) or by helping in the library (5).
